

SHINING STAR

Ms. Audrey Fleschute was shining bright, shining far, she was the star of the day here at the Capitol. Audrey attends Oklahoma State University and is a Political Science Pre-Law major with a minor in clinical child psychology and law and legal studies.

Audrey has attended OIL since the fall of 2020 coming into her 7th session. She serves as the Deputy President Pro Tempore of the Senate

Her proudest moment in OIL involved being the delegation chair in the academic year of 2022-2023 at OSU and all her delegates left from OIL with nearly every award available. She also brought a piece of legislation last session that brought together entire chambers.

The act consists of a Gun Education bill. She did emphasize this was not a pro-gun or anti-gun piece, this simply is to educate kids from kindergarten to highschool, that provides information from a range to a child to when an individual is wanting to become a law-abiding gun owner.

which did pass unanimously in both the house and the senate. This bill can be found in the previous bill packets from the spring of 2023.

When asked about the challenges faced here in OIL she gave a very encouraging speech. Her only opposition was she first started in the house chamber and felt it was not her place. Eventually found herself hanging around the senate which she now serves on the dais and calls it her home.

Outside of OIL She has a passion for reading and when she's not lost in the world of words you can catch her hanging out with her best friend Sydney Adkins, who is also the Vice Chief Justice of the Supreme Court.
